

NexaMotion Group Continues its Product Offering Expansion in Fort Worth, Texas.

CLEVELAND, APRIL 16, 2024 – Transtar Industries, a NexaMotion Group (NMG) company, is excited to announce a new location that will carry an extended product offering.

In addition to transmission and driveline-related products, general repair product lines are now available at Transtar's branch in Fort Worth, Texas. This development follows a similar expansion at four other Transtar locations in Ohio, Pennsylvania and Texas.

CEO of NexaMotion Group, Neil Sethi, is enthusiastic about the success he has seen with the initial location expansions and is confident the team in Fort Worth will follow the same trajectory. "This expansion signifies not only a strategic business decision but also a bold step towards continuing to embrace new opportunities and fostering growth. We are excited to bring new product lines to our existing customers and form new partnerships in the Fort Worth market."
